Time to Shake Things Up in the Meat Business

<https://www.porkbusiness.com/news/hog-production/time-shake-things-meat-business-part-1>

Pork is cheap compared to beef and going forward, as inflation remains high and food prices remain high, pork will compete with beef.

Last week kill was 634,000, up 18,000 above the past week, higher than kill has been over the past 3 weeks. However cash cattle were down and cash showlist sales in the Southwest very light with packers taking contract cattle and their own cattle as many feedlot managers passed $182.00. Packers likely intended to buy fewer showlist cattle in the Southwest. Packer margins have improved but they need heavier cattle. The spread between Choice and Select beef has been widening and with high temperatures in the Texas, cattle in those areas aren't going to put on pounds.

There was a higher boxed beef market and over the coming week beef prices will be a key factor for cattle prices. Packers are going to pass on cattle that aren't finished to their satisfaction.

Traders are bear spreading. They are selling August 2023 Live Cattle and buying months out. It looks like they are setting market up for next weeks COF report. Currently, traders are anticipating from previous COF reports more cattle in the summer and then numbers will dwindle down for slaughter this fall and into 2024.

With very little change on June Live Cattle, up 12 cents from last week, and cash prices dropping from $2.00 to $5.00, the wide difference between the cash and futures is indicating cash prices likely have more downside.

Friday June 2023 Live Cattle settled at $178.35 and the 5 day negotiated price as of Friday was $184.99 with a difference of $6.64 compared to previous day at $8.34.

Time to Shake Things Up in the Meat Business

<https://www.porkbusiness.com/news/hog-production/time-shake-things-meat-business-part-1>

Pork is cheap compared to beef and going forward, as inflation remains high and food prices remain high, pork will compete with beef.

Packers are not going to push hogs when the CME Lean Hog Index is only $1.51 below the CME Pork Index. Add in the costs from fixed and variable expense, and buying daily hogs to price of daily pork sales is a loser for a packer. Packers are going to kill hogs and sell pork for contract orders and back down on daily buy. Currently, hog numbers have fallen off and packers may need hogs to fill contracts from the daily buy and sell off cuts that are left over. Pork sales volume is light.

On 5 day average pork sales for the week, the carcass price gained 3.48 but gains were mostly because of butts ribs and bellies. Loins were up, but gain was lost as hams lost. Pork rallies when gains are on pork and hams. Butts, ribs and bellies usually don't sustain rallies.
