USDA LIVESTOCK REPORTS FOR DECEMBER 2023

CATTLE ON FEED REPORT – FRIDAY, DECEMBER 22, 2023

COLD STORAGE REPORT – FRIDAY, DECEMBER 22, 2023

HOGS AND PIGS REPORT – FRIDAY, DECEMBER 22, 2023

Monday, February 2024 Live Cattle fell to the same level it was a on Monday December 5, 2022.

Traders continue to bear spread. Volume was moderately active.

With slaughter down there is increasing load movement in the daily boxed beef sales suggesting there is less beef contracting. This is not positive as packers will begin to slow fed cattle contracting if they cannot contract beef. Packers will also become pickier to the feedlots they use to contract cattle and more cattle will show on showlists.

Traders and short hedgers selling cattle as cash cattle prices drop, as weights increase, and with the continuing drop in beef prices. Beef is only being held up with strong pricing for rib and loin primals as other primal sections fall. At the same time traders are watching what consumers have been buying, cheaper beef cuts such as ground beef and cheaper grades.

Slaughter last week was light 635,000 down 25,000 head from a year ago. Packers are buying exactly how many cattle that are needed to fill beef orders.

The spread between Choice boxed beef and Select has been widening. Normally, this is a positive indicator that beef prices will move up. However, now demand has been dropping for both grades and cheaper Select beef offers consumers a less costly product. There are still too many lower grade cattle in the Southwest. Cheaper Select beef is going to weigh down Choice products. Once the demand moves from holiday buying and demand slows for rib and loin primals, a drop in beef prices is likely further adding to a decline in price for cash cattle and live cattle futures.

USDA NATIONAL STEER & HEIFER ESTIMATED GRADING PERCENT REPORT

December 4, 2024

https://www.ams.usda.gov/mnreports/nw_ls196.txt Full Report

For week ending November 25, 2023

	Nebraska	Kansas	Texas
Prime	12.95%	7.42%	3.63%
Choice	73.53%	74.63%	63.89%
Select	10.11%	14.64%	29.72%
Other	3.41%	3.32%	2.75%

EXPORTS

Exports could be worse. Remember the week ending October 12th, there were more cancellations than exports. But net sales of 6,300 MT are too low and do little if anything to help maintain high beef prices. It is the opposite, high US beef prices and US slaughter down have slowed exports and marketing analysts show when sales are lost, they are difficult to bring back.

For the week ending November 23, 2023 net export sales were 6,300 MT.

Week Ending November 16, 2023 10,000 MT

Week Ending November 9, 2023 8,900 MT

Week Ending November 2, 2023 13,600MT

Week Ending October 26, 2023 17,100 MT

This time of the year more feeder cattle are sold. Now, it is very likely feeders will be held until the first of the year as producers hold off taking income after a profitable year in 2023 and wait until 2024. Most pastures now are in good condition across most of the Southwest as temperatures have cooled and have had rain which will also induce sales into 2024 as producers add weight versus selling. This will add more pressure on feeder cattle prices in 2024.

With less than 2 weeks to go before December Lean Hogs expire December settled Monday at $68.05. The CME Lean Hog Index is $70.58.

Packer margins improve. Although the CME Pork Index has been slowing dropping, the CME Lean Hog Index is dropping at a faster rate. Hog prices are dropping as slaughter and weights increase. Pork has been on a steady decline. Spec traders continue to bear spread.

EXPORTS

US pork exports are up this year, but will they remain as strong in 2024? I don't feel the US hog herd will be less in 2024 and I feel global competition is going to strong. If by chance Mexico slows buying US pork, then US exports would need to expand into other countries. The problem is other countries have trade agreements they are committed to fill with other hog producing countries and it will be difficult for the US to increase exports.

For the week ending November 23, 2023 net export sales were 21,200 MT.
