Will higher beef prices be positive for cattle prices? Normally it would be when cattle slaughter is down. But packers are working deep in the red at least on cattle bought on the showlist and beef sold on the daily market. Are packers going to dig themselves deeper into a hole? Packers have cut hours of slaughter. Weights and grades are going up. Heavier cattle will also have heavier cuts especially Chucks, Rounds, Flanks and Plates that are wanted by the processor. It is the intention when packers cut hours to not have to battle over the available cattle.

Last week, federal cattle slaughter was up 6000 head compared to the prior week but it is low at 599,000 head. Packer cut kill on Friday by 19,000 head compared to a week ago. Year to date slaughter is down 298,063 head. A year ago the 2023 cattle slaughter for this period was down 121,000 head from 2022.

February Live Cattle went off the board at $184.00.

Cash prices last week were $183.00 to $184.00. There were a couple small groups that sold for $185.00 and $186.00. Friday packers bought cattle mostly for $183.00. Dressed prices were $290.00.

The fires in Texas are the largest wildfires in Texas history. There are 1000s of dead cattle. With depleting numbers in Texas because of droughts, the fire is adding insult to injury. Reports indicate about 19,000 to 20,000 head were killed. In the big picture it likely won't affect the beef market. Beef prices are moving up on the light kill.

Beef prices have been moving higher on light movement. There are fewer cattle being killed. Beef buyers are at the whim of the seller. The restaurant industry will have problems.

EXPORTS WEEK

U.S. EXPORTS ARE LIGHT. WITH SLAUGHTER DOWN, AND BEEF PRICES MOVING UP EXPORT BUYERS ARE GOING TO SHOP IN OTHER COUNTRIES. EXPORT BUYERS CAN BUY CHEAPER BEEF FROM BRAZIL AND AUSTRALIA. WITH THE U.S. PACKERS CUTTING SLAUGHTER, EXPORTS ARE GOING TO REMAIN LIGHT.

Compared to last week, steers and heifers in the North and South-Central areas sold steady to 3.00 higher, while the Southeast steers and heifers sold 2.00 lower to 1.00 higher. Demand was reported as good to very good this week as backgrounders were still in the market procuring grazing calves for turnout. The "grass fever" is upon most of the country as warmer than normal temperatures in the past week had spurred on the mindset of spring is just around the corner and we must have those calves. Pastures in many states are seeing a tint of green to them as the calendar just turns to March, uncommon for this time of year and some locations were bumping up against record highs over this past weekend. Ranchers with fall-born calves are primed to take advantage of the highest prices seen for their calves in recent times.

On the "Daily Pork Cutout" tables below check the 5 day average prices for March 1, 2024 compared to March 1, 2023. There is very little change from a year ago for loin and ham prices. The carcass is higher in 2024 by $6.13 because of the price of butts, ribs and bellies.

Monday, sellers were selling the April Lean Hog premium. The CME Lean Hog Index is $6.01 under April. With about a month and a half before April expires, there is a lot of time for speculators to widen the spread or narrow it.

July, August and October Lean Hogs made new contract highs Monday.
